

5th Floor of Oastler Building,
University of Huddersfield,
Queensgate,
Huddersfield,
HD1 3DH

Coffee served from 9.00 am. Conference starts at 9.30 am and closes at c. 5.30 pm.

Confirmed papers

Thomas Stewart 'The Labour Party and the rise of Scottish Nationalism in Dundee since the 1990s'

Emmett O'Connor 'Labour, Britain and Ireland: Colonization and Mental Colonization'

Adrian Grant, 'James McCarron, 1851-1918: Irish nationalist and defender of British trade unions in Ireland'

Catherine Healy, Trinity College Dublin on Irish female immigrants and the threat of domestic warfare

James Curry 'The Labour and National poems of Maeve Cavanagh McDowell, James Connolly's Poetess of the Irish Revolution'

Daniel Rayner O'Connor 'The Revolutionary Link: Syndicalism and Nationalism in the Irish Revolution, 1913-1923'

Geoffrey Bell, 'Hiding their light under a bushel' – British Labour and the War of Irish Independence'

Geert Van Goethem, 'Inter-nationalism and the British Trade Unions'

Paul Corthorn, 'British Labour and British Nationalism: responses to Enoch Powell'

Daryl Leeworthy, 'Who's Nation? Diversity, Social Justice and the Labour Party in South Wales, 1967-2003'

Martin Wright, 'Socialism and Nationalism in Wales' :The Chimera of Welsh Politics? The Search for a Welsh Socialist Party from the 1890s to the 1990s

Round table discussion on labour and nationalism, with Peter Ackers, Geert Van Goethem, Emmett O'Connor and Martin Wright.

For final programme see <http://sslh.org.uk/news-post/2017-12-19-labour-and-nationalism-conference-5-may-2018>

FREE – but registration required

EITHER register at:

<https://www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/labour-nationalism-conference-tickets-43630314445>

OR: email Keith Laybourn to reserve a place k.laybourn@hud.ac.uk

Irish Labour History Society
An Cumann Staire Lucht Saothar na hÉireann

SSLH
Society for the Study of Labour History