

Their Legacy - Our Heritage

The Workers' Educational Association (WEA) and the General Federation of Trade Unions (GFTU) are pleased to launch a series of online classes with leading experts in their fields on key components of working class history that have lasting impact.

You can attend the whole series or individual sessions and there is no charge for attending.

Each session will last for 90 minutes and participants will be provided with information for further exploration of the subject.

The sessions will be accessible and informative rather than complicated lecture. Our aim is to make the incredible history of those who have struggled before us known more widely.

Our history has been hidden precisely because it is so powerful.

There will be a maximum of 25 participants on each session to allow everyone to be able to get involved.

The sessions will be delivered via the video conference platform Zoom which will be easily accessible through the internet on any device.

Enrolling on one or all of the courses couldn't be simpler just click on the web link for the course and enter pin number when asked. If you need assistance please ring 0300 303 3464 or use online contact form at <https://www.wea.org.uk/contact-us>
